DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

1. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
2. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 1 recites the broad recitation "a drive system for a vehicle", and the claim also recites "especially a commercial vehicle such as an agricultural or industrial tractor" which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Art Unit: 3618

3. In claims 1-15, applicants claim recitation of “an associated axle or single-wheel drive motor” and “a joint axle drive motor or by single wheel drive motor” is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 5-9, 11, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Radev (US Patent 6,005,358).

Tabata et al. teaches a drive system for a vehicle, the vehicle having at least one first wheel that is driven by an associated axle and at least one second wheel, in a drive train of which a gearbox (18) that can be shifted between at least two speed transmission steps is arranged, including: a device (inherent) for the detection of a shift command; and, a control unit (50), which in the presence of a shift command automatically applies a greater load at least on a drive motor (14) driving the first wheel, controls the shifting operation of the change-speed gearbox (18) of the second wheel and then lowers the load of the drive motor (14) driving the first wheel. Re claim 3, Tabata et al. discloses a joint axle drive motor. Re claim 5, see clutches C0-C2. Re claims 7 and 9, see the generator and the “engine braking positions”. Re claim 8, see engine (12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tabata et al. ('426).

Tabata et al. teaches a shiftable transmission.

Tabata et al. lacks the teaching of a second shiftable transmission.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to add a second shiftable transmission to the system of Tabata et al., since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

6. Claim 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tabata et al. ('426).

Tabata et al. teaches the features described above.

Tabata et al. lacks the teaching of arranging the motor, a shiftable transmission and a final drive transmission within a wheel.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to arrange the motor, the shiftable transmission and the final drive transmission within the drive wheel, since it was known in the art that such an arrangement would provide maximum speed reduction in a small space.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

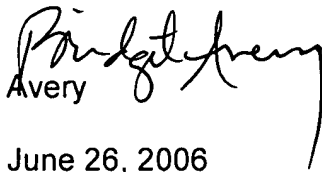

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

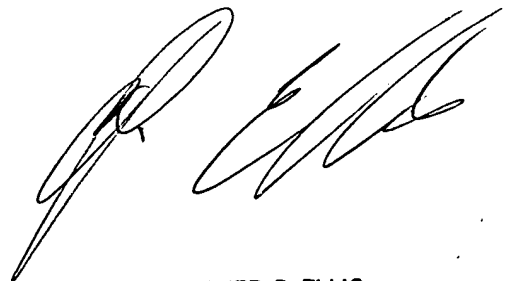

Chang shows a transmission structure of gearbox of electrically actuated car.

Radev shows a drive system for electric vehicles.

Tabata et al. shows a hybrid vehicle drive system.
